The City and the Legend...

2011-08-31

Situated on the banks of the Vistula River, Krakow, a former state capital, is now Poland's second largest city. Krakow's history goes back over one thousand years, placing the city among Poland's oldest and ensuring an almost unmatched variety of cultural, architectural and tourist attractions. The Polish Capital of Culture, a City of Legend are just some of the expressions that come to minds of those who visit the City of Prince Krak. How about taking a closer look at Krakow?
