Kraków has new deputy mayors

2024-07-26

On 14 May Kraków Mayor Aleksander Miszański introduced his closest associates. The first deputy mayor will be Professor Stanisław Mazur, rector of the University of Economics and leader of the "Better Kraków" Association, the second deputy will be Stanisław Kracik, former voivode of Małopolska and long-time mayor of Niepołomice, and the third will be Łukasz Sęk, city councilor and entrepreneur. The name of the fourth deputy, who will be responsible for education, social policy and housing, will be announced in the coming days.

Stanisław Mazur will be in charge of areas that concern the city's development strategy, spatial planning, entrepreneurship and economy.

Stanisław Kracik will be responsible for infrastructure, investment and municipal management.

Łukasz Sęk will deal with sports, promotion and communications. His division will also include innovation and the Kraków Metropolis area.
